Leading Questions of the Day Handled without Gloves.

The Existence of the House of Lords is in Jeopardy.

The Liquor Question will Receive Atter tion-Right of Workingmen Candidates to Remuneration-The Occupation of Egypt.

NEWCASTLE, Oct. 2. - [By the Associated Press. | At today's session of the Liberal Congress resolutions were adopted condemning the registration laws, to the effect that the condition of the rural population is such as to require immediate attention on the part of Parliament, and looking to other reforms on behalf of the farmers; reaffirming the declarations of the council of the National Liberal Federation in favor of "amending or ending" of the House of Lords; declaring in favor of "local option" in regard to public-house regula-tions; advocating a thorough reform of the land law, and disestablishment and disendowment of the Church of Scot-

A resolution favoring the abolishing of the House of Lords was introduced by Sir Wilfred Lawson, who made a speech favoring such action. The resolution and speech caused much enthusi-

Gladstone.

The appearance of the noted statesman and his wife was a signal for a prolonged ovation with which Gladstone was obviously delighted. When quiet was restored, Dr. Watson moved, and Burt seconded, a resolution expressing affection for and undiminished confidence in Gladstone. The resolution was carried with renewed acclamation was carried with renewed acclamation. was carried with renewed acclamation. When the cheering subsided Gladstone rose to speak.

Looking back to 1886 they saw, he said, what was believed to be a crushing Liberal defeat, but during the years since elapsed the horizon has brightened There were many precursors of certain victory, and that victory could not be far distant. Much had been said about the late conversion of the national debt. All saving thereon, and more, he declared, had already been absorbed and effaced from the public accounts, not only by the enormous increases in charges for supply and the necessary civil rates of the country, but also by the enormous increase in naval and military expenditure.

He should like to have spoken on the He should like to have spoken on the government's foreign policy which had many domestic results, but the policy of the present administration had been well night the inverse and reverse of that of Lord Beaconsfield. Just as the that of Lord Beaconsfield. Just as the Liberals endeavored to make the work of the Beaconsfield administration difficult because they thought it was deing ill, so had they striven to make the work of the present administration in its foreign policy easy because they thought as far as their information went its spirit had undergone a beneficial change. "I shall indeed rejoice," continued Gladstone, "if before the day from the people. You have arrived at a point decisive in your history; it's for the future to say after the next general election if this enmity shall continue. If Ireland is entire and those 'ages when enmity not friendship was chosen as an alternative it was enmity with the people. You have arrived at a point decisive in your history; it's for the future to say an alternative it was enmity with the people. You have arrived at a point barrassing occupation of Egypt, which as long as it lasts must be a cause of weakness.' Gladstone spoke a word of congratulation and hope in regard to the tem-perance question, reviewing the work, and added: "Those approaching my period of life may not witness it, but many of you will see a thorough and effective reform of laws connected with the traffic in alcohol, with an acknowledgement of the right of the local pop-ulation to settle the question as to whether, within their borders, public houses shall exist." houses shall exist."

Touching the question of abolition of the hereditary peers, Gladstone said that it is at present rather in the shade, owing to the priority of claims of other subjects. He should not be sorry if it would not have the shade leaves. subjects. He should not be sorry if it would remain in the shade longer, provided an extra lease were gained by its forbearance and wisdom in dealing with public sentiment. He warned the House of Lords, however, that it might make the matter a burning question if the peers were tempted to listen to the counsel given by Lord Salisbury when he contemplated the possibility of a Liberal victory and reminded them that all would not be over even if the Commons should pass a Home Rule bill. That the House of Lords might interpose itself between Lords might interpose itself between the judgment of the nation and the in-corporation of that judgment in the form of law. The Lords tried that game in 1881 throughout the proceed-ings on the reform bill and underwent humiliation. Gladstone himself in 1860-61 had the felicity or infelicity to be in conflict with the Lords. "We had," he said, "a great battle upon the repeal of the paper duties, one of the most difficult and important questions in the whole free trade conquestions in the whole free trade con-troversy. You know what the conse-quences have been in the establishment of a free press, which has done more than any other single cause to educate the country and to which we mainly owe the vast extension of the franchise. Should the Lords be seduced to accept the deplorable suggestion of Salisbury, they themselves will be first to repent

Regarding the registration reform, Gladstone said there was much in favor of giving it a forward place on the Liberal platform: Coming down to the quest in of labor, he said the labor representation in Parliament must be extended. They who are charged with the control and management of the affairs of the party will exhibit the utmost disposition to assist wherever a constituency is found favorable to the claims of a labor candidate. Constituencies must bear the cost of the residued to give any information as to term to fissed to give any information as to term to sell said that the directors are satisfied.

dences of these labor representatives in London. Nothing can be clearer than the title of such members to receive such aid from the public treasury as will enable them to discharge the task imposed upon them for the public benefit. Furthermore it is among the indispensible rules of the Liberal party when in power to establish district and parish councils to bring self-government to the door of the laboring man throughout the country, and enact compulsory powers enabling suitable bodies to acquire land in order-to place the rural population in nearer relation to the use and profit of the land they have so long tilled for the benefit of others.

Coming to the question of hours of labor, Gladstone said he views with satisfaction the large reductions in the amount of toil enacted which his fellow citizens had achieved in the last twenty years. He wished well to all further reductions it may be possible to achieve without violation of the rights of any man. Before assenting to the principle of the compulsory law bidding laborers to reduce their labor to a certain number of hours daily, he was glad to see a demonstration that those who now received low wages for long hours are to receive, at lenst, those wages for shorter hours, He would give no absolute judgment upon the question, but recommended much circumspection, much careful examination—before proceeding in a course which would be irratireable. much careful examination before prorecommended much circumspection, much careful examination before proceeding in a course which would be irretrievable, therefore it ought not to be prematurely adopted.

Speaking of the Irish question, Mr. Gladstone said he was glad their opponents proposed to introduce a local government bill, but it is a death-bed repentance. For six years Parliament and the government have pledged themselves not to adopt coercion and not to use British credit to purchase Irish land and also to introduce local government. They have spent five years breaking two of these pledges. Now, in articulo mortis, they seek to redeem the remaining pledge. Such is the elemency of the Liberal party that I am sure their resolution will be received with open arms. I admit, however, that the reason I rejoice is that the local government must assist Ireland to obtain national rights. The Tory idea of local government, said Mr. Chadstone is an idle tail.

assist Ireland to obtain national rights. The Tory idea of local government, said Mr. Gladstone, is an idle tale. Local government without the control of the policy—this is equivalent to proposing the creation of a Parliament without the power of regulating taxation. In combating the assertion that the government of Ireland had been successful, Gladstone at great length reminded his hearers that what the present government called crime in Ireland, was an agrarian combination to secure the tenants an vadetermined right. No tenants an vndetermined right. doubt these combinations ometimes developed crime, but the government had not waited for crime. Instead, they had interfered with private liberty livamanner that would not be tolerated in this country. Gladstone said he asked himself why the opponents persist in this for them hopeless struggle. Is it because they are governed by the fear of an Irish are governed by the fear of an Irish nation? The reputation of a country is measured by a standard easily gotten at. If it means what its neighbors think of it, a condemnatory verdict was long ago pronounced by England with reference to her conduct toward Ire-

Parliament will never overtake the arrears in public business until this terrible Irish policy is out of the way. In the period to come Itols clear that it must be either friendship or enmity with Ireland. There has been an alter-

The spectacle of one people oppressing another is sad—the most heart-rending and humbling spectacle that can be seen on the surface of the earth. I can never believe that a great nation will place itself in such a position. In truth this question has already been considered, and in some degree decided by a declaration in favor of friendship which has been made in a most constitutional manner by the results of the polls. Our opponents now admit it to be something formidable Constituencies have shown not only the Constituencies have snown not only the sober, the just, the true, but also the inevitable. [Great applause.] Upon these verdicts Ireland relies. You have watched her conduct in the different circumstances of the past nine months, conduct which I do not hesitate to say There was a responsible voice of sympathy and of increased conviction that we may deal safely and prudently with we may deal safely and prudently with our fellow-subjects in Ireland. When the proper person comes a general sense of this country will ratify the judg-ment already given at nearly a hundred points. The entire people of England will by a great and decisive majority determine to finally dispose of these de-mands now made upon them in the clearest and most audible tone, after long and painful experience made upon them alike by their honor, their interest and their duty before God and man. and their duty before God and man.

At the conclusion of Gladstone's speech there was an outburst of enthusiastic cheering prolonged for several minutes. A vote of thanks to Mr. Gladstone, proposed by Harcourt and seconded by Morley, was adopted with a rush and the proceedings closed with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.-[By the Associated Press.] Stephen Gage appeared before Superior Judge Wallace today on a summens to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt in failing to answer a subpœna of the grand jury, September 21, requiring him to testify before that body.

Creed Haymond, his counsel, claimed that if the contempt existed it was not of an offensive character. The case was simply one of a citizen in good faith endeavoring to determine the legality of the grand jury. His client was willing and anxious to make up an agreed case to take before the Supreme Court. case to take before the Supreme Court.

Attorney-General Hart addressed the Court and stated that in view of the importance of the matter and because the State was liable to be put to heavy expense in defending a suit that might grow out of the work of an illegal grand jury, he would apply tomorrow to the Supreme Court for a writ of review, which would enable that tribunal to investigate the manner of impanelment vestigate the manner of impanelment

District Attorney Barnes then said he would ask for a continuance of Gage's case, which Judge Wallace granted, allowing it to go over one week, fixing bail at $1000.

Later the Attorney-General said Gage's case could not go to the Supreme Court, the only way to get the matter there being by a writ of review. He proposes to file an affidauit with the Supreme Court setting forth all the facts regarding the impanelment of the grand jury.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] Poultnet Bigelow of the New York Canoe Club, who has been making a long canoe trip in southern Europe, returned to this city after three months' absence. In an interview Bigelow says the situation of affairs in Russia so far as the anti-foreign crusade is concerned, is more serious than re-

The following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, that no honest man has anything to fear from a grand jury, and that the best proof of its grand character lies in the fact that all political pirates in the city, the bosses of both parties, their corrupt creatures and dishonest officials, are its outspoken opponents.

Resolved, that considering this degraded condition of public affairs in the city and State, the low tone of political morality, the finding of juries and courty, the finding of juries and courty, the finding of Supervisors and Legislatures, the debauchment of public servyants obeying the behests of irresponsible so-called bosses, we hail any remedy, however drastic, as necessary and welcome.

By Telegraph to The Times.

New YORK, Oct. 2.—[By the Associated Press.] Inquiry at the office of Jay Gould this morning elicits the information that he sent word that "he was feeling first-rate." The fact that George Gould had gone to his shooting box at Skatsville indicates that Gould is not considered dangerous by his family.

Edwin Gould and his brother Howard were seen in their father's office at noor today. Both said that Gould was as well as he had been in months.

HADN'T HEARD OF IT.

TARRYTOWN (N. Y..) Oct 2.—Jay
Gould went out driving this morning at his country seat at Irvington. It was said that they had not heard that Gould

THE RUMOR RENEWED. New York, Oct. 2.—Renewed confirmation of the story to the effect that Jay Gould, the broker, is down physfcally, and that his health is in an extremely critical condition, has, accord tremely critical condition, has, according to an evening paper, been received today. Mr. Gould was not at his office today and it is learned that under the advice of his physician he did not leave his home at Tarrytown. Any further tax of the strain upon his weakened nervous forces would, in all probability, be followed by disastrous consequences. The lowed by disastrous consequences. The physicians think that he cannot be per-mitted, in his present condition of health, to attempt any mental or physical exertion. Carefully huddled up, he took a drive this morning, and those who went with him said he looked very worn and feeble and that his features were pale and drawn. That he is very sick there is no doubt whatever, says the paper quoted, and it is generally believed that he will be obliged to give up business activities, at least for the present.

The paper then tells the incident occurring at the Missouri Pacific meeting Wednesday, stating that the accounts previously given of Mr. Gould's pros-tration on that occasion have been fully corroborated by several of those who were present.

GUATEMALA.

More Denials of the Sensational Stories of Revolution.

Bosrox, Oct. 2.—[By the Associated Press.] A City of Mexico dispatch says:

'The revolutionists in Guatemala have finally succeeded in drawing the Barrillas forces into a fight, and the government troops were badly done up, retreating to Guatemala City, forty miles away from the scene of the fight. There away from the scene of the fight. There was great secret rejoicing in the city when the news was received of the defeat of the government troops. President Ezeta declares Guatemaja is ripe for a plan of consolidating all Central America into one republic, and he will not lose an opportunity to bring about this result." BARRILLAS DENIES. New York, Oct. 2.—The Guatemalan Consul-General here, today received the following cable from President Barrillas, dated Guatemala, October 1: "Absolute peace reigns in all Guate-"Absolute peace reigns in all Guate-mala. In Favor of Union.

WINLDOR, (Ont.) Oct. 2.—At a meeting called to discuss political union between Canada and the United States last night, a resolu was adopted contrasting Cana finances and population with of the United States and stating this unfortunate state of affairs is almost entirely to the fact that we are divorced politically and commercially from the continent of which we form an important part. That to secure our proper place with respect to the trade of the continent a political union with the United States is necessary

ROME, Oct. 2.—There was great excitement today when a number of pilgrims from France, visiting the Pantheon, showed disrespect to the tomb of Victor Emmanuel. Bystanders interferred and a fight began, which was stopped by the police. When the facts became known bands of young men paraded the streets, hooting and hissing the pilgrims. They visited hotels and demanded that the Italian flag be raised. This was one. OLD MAN OLSEN. A Queer Story About How he Treated a

Old man Olsen, the organ grinder who holds forth near the San Fernando street depot and amuses himself by keeping railroad men awake, has bee arrested a number of times for disturbng the peace and taken before Justice Owens of the Police Court, was again up yesterday afternoon, and notwithstand-ing the fact that he has been well treated by the Court, he insisted that he cannot get justice and asked that his case be transferred to Justice Austin's court. The transfer was made and the old man will be tried in a few days

Rev. Mr. Collins, who happened to be in court, told a queer story on the old man. Mr. Collins looks after the souls of the people in the northern part of the city and teaches their children Sun-day-school lessons every Sunday, and knows more about the wickedness of that section of the city than any man in town. brought by Public Administrator Field against Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Shorb, to compel them to turn into the estate $27,000 which they obtained from Daniel J. Harris, deceased, during his last illness, was resumed before Judge Van Dyke and a jury in Department Van Dyke and a jury in Department Four yesterday morning and occupied their undivided attention all day. The proceedings were closely watched by a large number of interested spectators, among whom were noticed several ladies, who have been in attendance daily since the trial began.

Suppose that Daniel J. Harris, a man of about 58 years of age, about June, 1890, was afflicted with heart disease, or dropsy, and subsequently died on or about August 18, 1890; and suppose the following facts are true: That he was penurious, close and stingy; filthy in his person and habits; did not want to buy food, and when he did buy food for himself would buy cheap food and a small quantity, as for instance, a loaf of bread, 10 cents worth of milk, and live upon it until it was gone; never combed his hair or changed his shirt, except when urged thereto by his attendants; frequently mumbling to himself; frequently bawling; practicing a vicious habit; frequently crying without apparent cause, and when spoken to upon the most trivial subjects, and without anything being said which would excite grief in a person; miserly in his habits; would get up out of bed, rave and swear; wearing mean apparel which looked dirty and uncomfortable; in talking would, on the same subject, at different times, get things turned round and would not always tell the same story about the same subject; possessed of a large amount of property but worrying and saying that he would be in the poor-house if he was sick much longer, and was getting poorer all the time; did not like to part with any money; fearful that people were friendly to him because they-desired to get his money; had frequent crying spells; stated on several occasions that Los Angeles would be visited by an epidemic in 1890 whereby 30,000 people would die, and it depended upon whether he. (Harris) stayed in Los Angeles or not as to the epidemic, and that if he went away from Los Angeles it would escape such epidemic and the other place he went to would be similarly inflicted; while in his sickness and before his death placed in the hands of the wife of his attending physician a certificate of deposit and other funds amounting to over $25,000 in value, which it is claimed was a gift to said woman; while sick never washed himself, did not want to change

Each of the experts answered un-equivocally that Harris must have been of unsound mind under those circum-stances, and the fact that Harris's sisstances, and the fact that Harris's sister was now in an insane asylum was admitted by all as tending to strengthen their opinian.

Dr. A. S. Shorb, one of the defendants, was then called and examined briefly as to his presentation of a $25,000 check at the bank within a few hours of Harris's death. He admitted frankly that immediately after his patient died he went to his own house, and soon afterward visited an under-all of whom knew Harris in Seattle before he came down to Los Angeles, to before he came down to Los Angeles, to show that the deceased was a rational and shrewd business man, in order to controvert the testimony offered by plaintiff. The reading of these depositions occupied the court until the hour of adjournment, when the case was continued until Wednesday next.

A FATALLY DEFECTIVE INFORMATION. An opinion reversing the judgment and order of the trial court in the case and order of the trial court in the case of the People vs. James Niel, who was convicted upon an information charging him with illegal voting and sentenced to imprisonment in the State prison for the term of one year, was received from headquarters by Deputy Clerk Ashmore of the Supreme Court, yesterday for filing in this city.

The information which charged the defendant, in the language of the code, with having fraudulently voted at an defendant, in the language of the code, with having fraudulently voted at an election when he was not entitled to vote, was demurred to on the following grounds: First, that the facts therein stated did not constitute a public offense; and second, that it did not substantially conform to the requirements of secs. 950, 951 and 952 of the Penal Code in that it was not alleged therein what qualification of a voter he did not possess. This demurrer was overruled; but after the verdict and before he was called for judgment, the defendant called for judgment, the defendant moved the Court for an arrest of judgment on the first of the grounds in the information, which was denied. From this order and the judgment of conviction defendant appealed, and the Supreme Cour tolls that both his objections were well taken. In the language

The girl, who was an inmate of Mrs. Watson's Home, gave birth to a child there, but on the night of September 5 last, left therewith a girl named Julia Bandy, presumably to visit an ice cream church social, but really to meet two youths named Moriarty and Hamilton, with whom they spent two nights at the Arlington and subsequently went to Pasadena.

SAN QUENTIN FOR ONE YEAR. In Department One yesterday, George Wilson appeared before Judge Smith for arraignment upon the charge of burglary preferred against him. After waiving all his legal rights, Wilson entered his plea of guilty and informed the court that he was arrested for breaking into the dining-room of the Westminster on the night of September 17 last and stealing a quantity of silver-Westminster on the night of September 17 last and stealing a quantity of silver-ware therefrom. He naively stated that he did not know whether he stole any silverware or not, but as the police found a quantity of spoons on his person when they searched him at the police station, he supposed that he had done so. Upon this showing, the court convicted the defendant of burglary in the first degree, and sentenced him to imprisonment at San Quentin for the term of one year.

proceedings were closely watched by a large number of interested spectators, among whom were noticed several ladies, who have been in attendance daily since the trial began.

During the morning session, Drs. K. D. Wise, W. G. Cochran, H. G. Brainerd and H. P. Mathewson, were called as expert witnesses for the plaintiff. Each was asked the following hypothetical question, which embodies the theory of the plaintiff.

Suit was commenced in the Circuit Court yesterday by United States District Attorney Cole on behalf of the United States against the Coronado Beach Company to condemn a part of the peninsula known as Coronado North Island for Government purposes. It is stated upon good authority that the Government has been in correspondence with the company for some time past, with the view of purchasing 18.85 acres of land for the purpose of constructing a jetty on Zuninga shoal near the entrance to San Diego harbor; but the company refused to put a price upon it, on the ground that it was part of a large tract of land which had been already offered to the Government as the site for a proposed military post.

The newspaper has at last succeeded in introducing one of its methods into one of the real, exclusive and aristocratic magazines. The story comes from Chicago that an article on "Spec ulation in Wheat," which appears in the North American Review was written by a newspaper reporter from suggestions furnished by B. P. It is precisely the kind of administration that is needed at this time. It is conservative, yet positive, and above all is conducted solely in the interests of pure politics."

A UNITED STATES Senate Committee is sitting in New York to inquire into "the cost of living." The Oakland Enquirer thinks that perhaps the sage conclusion drawn from the investigation will be that it depends on how you live. By way of pointing a moral and adorning a little good advice to orange growers, the paper quoted from then proceeds to say:

The soil and climate of the leading orange-growing sections of the State seem particularly well adapted to the Navel orange, which attains to a remarkable degree of perfection, both in size and flavor. This orange has become a great favorite in the East since it has been shipped so largely from this State, and always commands a good price.

largely from this St mands a good price. mands a good price.

But our orange growers should remember that the taste of the public is variable, and for that reason they should not put all their eggs into one basket. There are so many varieties of oranges that some other sort is likely to catch the fancy of the people and surpass the Navel in popularity. This does not argue that a new favorite will be any better than the Navel: indeed it may not be so good, but if there comes a run on it it will be more salable for the time being, and the man who has only Navel oranges and the man who has only Navel oranges in his orchard will find himself with a crop on which he cannot realize. We do not undertake to teach orange growers their business, but only to suggest to them that the Navel orange may not always be as popular as it is at the present time.

The Chronicle may spare itself any apprehensions on this score. While the Navel remains the finest orange that the world produces, it will never go out of fashion. But, aside fro this, there is no danger th that our producers are putting all their eggs (or oranges) in one basket. There are extensive new plantations of Mediterranean Sweets, Maltese Bloods, St. Michaels and other choice varieties Within the past year or two there has been a movement, amounting almost to a craze, for planting the Valencia late (also known as the Du Roi.) The advantage of this variety is that it is very late, maturing so that it is about right to eat on the Fourth of July; but it may be kept well until the fall or winter, so that, while in one sense it is the latest in another it is the earliest, coming into the market two or three months before any other variety is available The Valencia is a sweeter orange than the Navel, though it falls short of the latter's winey flavor. It has good keeping and shipping qualities and is of the right size to be most acceptable to dealers. Our people are also on the qui vivo continually for any new varieties that promise good results, and have even originated some of their own. One of these, said to be a cross between a Navel and the Maltese Blood, is regarded as particularly fine, and is ing propagated as rapidly as the buds can be grown. The time is coming when an advantage in producing fine tancy about saying anything ill of him. ably be many years hence, if indeed the of unhappy memory didn't have much to do with defeating Blaine, after all.

The Rain-makers Not Discouraged Although the latest efforts of the Government rain-makers at El Paso, Texas, did not bring a downpour, the theory upon which they work is not considered disproved, by any means. The El Paso Times says:

This failure is not discouraging to a scien This failure is not discouraging to a scientific mind. The theory is purely in an experimental stage and before a positive and absolute conclusion can be reached there must be mors trials and their results or lack of results must be carefully studied. If rain follows the expriments there is yet the work of scientifically connecting cause and effect. The work at El Paso was complete and there is nothing that the operators can complain of except a very dry atmosphere. plain of except a very dry atmospher the entire absence of clouds. Th state of things, however, was desired by the party that their success might be considered more complete in case it came at all. They had no desire to deceive any one, and were as much interested as the public in a fair test of the theory upon which their opera-tions are based. If the lack of success goes to show anything, it merely confirms the common-sense idea, that if the requisite moisture is not in the atmosphere it cannot be brought down. Given the aqueous vapor in a cloud overhanging or within a reachable distance, and the bombardment will probably bring rain.

Opposition to the building of eighteenstory structures, called "sky-scrapers," now comes from no less important source than the board of real-estate brokers in Chicago. It is intimated that the real cause of their objection is not any fear of danger from the big houses, but that they think them an excessive economy of ground, which should not be encouraged.

In the afternoon the institute resumed its regular sessions at the Highschool building, and Prof. Will S. Exciting Session of Irish League.

Determined Struggle Between Par nellites and McCarthvites.

The Expenditure of the Eviction Fund Demanded.

Strong Platform Adopted—Interna Strife Deplored—Boycott of English Imports Determined on After Some Objections.

By relegraph to The Times.
CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—[By the Associated Press.] Owing to the inability of delegates to come to an understanding on the question whether the Irish National League of America should, as an organization, formally repudiate and demn Parnell, no session was held until 2 o'clock this afternoon. The report of John P. Sutton as retary, revealed the strange condition which the league would have appeared to have existed, and caused con siderable surprise. It opened with a declaration that President Fitzgerald, who was elected a year ago, believed the whole organization backed him, but he found out his mistake when efforts were made to demoralize and disrupt the league. The report out-lined a startling narrative with letters and telegrams to show that time and time again the convention was prevented from acting from across the water, while of-offers of the league for holding back were were abused by factionists in this country, encouraged by Parnell and his colleagues, who are exhibited as sedu lously ignoring the league officials whenever an opportunity affered. Fitzgerald is stated to have headed an anti-eviction fund with a personal si scription of $3000 and to have raised total of nearly $10,000 in his effort for the struggling families in Ireland.

One peculiar disclosure was made by Secretary Sutton. It is to the effect that during 1888 Parnell finding himself bound by an agreement to turn over to his lawyers the full amount of the Times defense fund begged of President Fitzgerald that while rushing the collections the fund be retained in America.

"The wishes of Parnell were com-"The wishes of Parnell were com-plied with," says the report. "And very soon there was a howl from a hand-ful of factionists who energetically on behalf of the London Times made a statement that O'Reilly was retaining money for improper purposes."

The climax of Sutton's document is a

The climax of Sutton's document is a letter dated at the House of Commons London, May 21, '90 from John Dillon to President Fitzgerald, marked estrictly confidental's saying "Parnell suggests the executive should address a communication to him (Parnell) recognizing the difficulties created by the American party complications and advising that he should take steps to reconstruct the present organization in construct the present organization in such manner as would allow the various branches to communicate direct with Dublin. If the executive can see their way to act upon the suggestion, Parnell authorizes me to say in reply to a communication about them that he will write thanking them for their great services to the Irish canse, strongly disapproving of the attacks that have been made upon them and stating that having inquired into the charges against the executive league, he is satisfied they are utterly without President Fitzgerald, replying, said the members of the executive could not conceal their astonishment at the tenor of the communication to them, adding "We cannot but dissent from the suppo-sition that American politics have in any way interfered with or compli-cated the administration of the league. The record shows that while the mem ers of the executive were of different political affiliations, they were unani-mous in their resolve to prevent any such interference with the government of the league. As to the undesirability of a central organization in America. that is a question which pertains ex-clusively to your jurisdiction. Re-garding the proposition of addressing a letter to Parnell recognizing the difwhich the orange-grower makes, and this, of course will be a powerful stimulus for emulation. But it will probably be many years hence, if indeed the time ever comes, when the Navel, the Maltese Blood, the Mediterranean Sweet, the St. Michael and the Valegicia communicate direct with Dublin, it is one which the executive cannot conform to. We are not now, nor have we ever been, unmindful of the fact that we took office under pledges to conduct the league as a body auxiliary to national party in Ireland, and as such we have always been guided by their advice and direction. We do not pro-pose at this atedate to adopt a different policy, but we are not seeking a cerificate of character from any naving acted in every instance in conformity with Parnell's expressed de-

The contest over the platform developed into an open split of the com-mittee, and at 2 p.m. Sharon of Iowa, Donnelly of Wisconsin and O'Byrne of Donnelly of Wisconsin and O'Byrne of Georgia were framing a minority re-port against neutrality toward Parnell. The majority report, it was understood, prior to its presentation in the conven-tion, mentions neither Parnell nor Mc-Carthy, but demanded a firm, united front on the part of the people of Ire-land.

M. V. Gannon of Omaha tonight suc

M. Gamon of Comman tonight succeeded John Fitzgerald as president of the Irish National League of America.

The convention notwithstanding a spirited struggle adopted an attitude of absolute independence from any of the factions in Ireland or their auxilliary bodies. Secretary John P. Sutton was re-elected by acclamation and W. Lyman of New York was unani-mously chosen treasurer. W. J. Gleason of Cleveland, chairman of Committee on Constitution submitted a plan which made no mention of the parent body in Ireland, thus divesting the American body from subjection to the control or responsibilities of the diverse organizations now exist-ing in Ireland. The plan was adopted without question and the salaries of the president, secretary and treasurer president. secretary and treasurer were fixed at $1,000 each per year. A hubbub was raised by Dennis Ryan of St. Louis objecting to the clause in

A hubbub was raised by Dennis Ryan of St. Louis objecting to the clause in the constitution virtually making one of the objects of the league the boycotting in America of importations of goods of English manufacture. He thought such action looked like taking a hand in American politics, but the convention failed to see it, and clamorously yelled for Ryan to sit down while it declared itself unmistakably for the boycott.

The real fight of the day occurred when the report of the Committee on Platform was read. It was:

The Irish National League of America.cin convention assembled, testifies its devotion to the flag of the Inion and the unquenchable love of its members for the laws and institutions of our glorious country, recognizing, as we do gladly and proudly that our primary allegiance is due to that flag and to those institutions. We affirm that our over-mastering desire is to see extended to our motherland the, benedits accruing from equal laws, such as have bleased America, made her the hope of suffering mankind and a model for nations struggling for free institutions. We regret the conditions now existing in Ireland, and attribute their possibility to the unfortunate tendency toward here worship and one-man domination, which we hope to see obliterated from the public life of Ireland. We have no desire nor do we deem it wise, necessary or patriotic to pass judgment upon the questions now unhapplity separating our brethren in old Ireland. We have heretofore tendered our good offices in adjustment of these differences and that tender has been wholly disregarded by the condoning elements, but we may and must speak out the opinions and wishes of the people whom we represent and say it is the duty of the Irish and all other oppressed people to seek freedom by peaceable methods and only when such methods have been fully tried and found wanting, are the nations and people justified in resorting to force. But we strongly and emphatically assert that it is equally our duty to prepare for every emergency and stand ready to add our kindred in every manner recognized and commended by usage and civilization in obtaining a freeman's privileges and a land consecrated to freedom by the heroic sacrifices of centuries.

We call upon those who are responsible for the locking upof over $200,000, mainly contribucking upof over $200,000, mainly c the release of the same, and distribute it as originally intended, and we pledge our-selves that until this request is complied with we are resolved not to contribute an-other dollar to aid those who have withheld with we are resolved not to controlled another dollar to aid those who have withheld this money from its legitimate beneficiaries. We hereby resolve to maintain our organization, our purpose being to be in readiness for the performance of such duties as the exigencies of the future shall show to be it and proper, and we humbly invoke the guidance of Almighty God for our brothers and ourselves to the end that with His blessings our reunited efforts may result in securing for the Irish people the land in which He planted them, and a government whose personnel shall be so clean and pure, and whose principles shall be so broad, humane and free as to make it a model among the free nations of the earth.

We call the attention of America to the thecause of American citizens suffering horrors in British dungeons because of evidence, plainly manufactured, and the fact that they dared express themselves in favor of free Irciand; and we ask our representatives in Congress to press the mater upon the attention of the State De-resentatives in Congress to press the mater upon the attention of the State Department.

The platform further extends heart felt sympathy to President Fitzgerald and Vice-President Martin of Baltiand Vice-President Martin of Batti-more, eulogizes them and tenders sin-cere thanks to all executive officers. Before a motion for the adoption of the platform could be put Judge Don-nelly of Wisconsin arose and annelly of Wisconsin arose and announced that there was no minority report. He argued that the minority did not disagree with anything in the majority report except that it did not go far enough. "In the language of our distinguished fellow-citizen ex-President- Cleveland,"—an uproarious outburst of applause and laughter instantly interrupted Donnelly. With some embarrassment he proceeded—"it is a condition, not a theory that confronts us in dition, not a theory that confronts us in Ireland."

McGuirk of Iowa demanded on a point of order that Donnelly first read the minority report, but the convention allowed him to continue explaining. He wished the convention to recognize a governing party in Ireland. They should boldly and manfully meet the issue and declare that in Ireland as elsewhere, the majority should rule eisewhere, the majority should rule.

Lyman of New York called upon the Chair to cut short his long speech, and Donnelly then proceeded to read the minority report signed by himself, Sharon of Iowa and O' Byrne of Georgia.

It declares the approval of the majority

Resolved, that, as American citizens and firm believers in the principles on which our Government is founded, we recognize the claim of no person to the chairmanship of a parliamentary party which is not founded on the consent and approval of a majority of that party and we instruct the officers of this league to recognize the chairman chosen by a majority of the Irish Parliamentary party.

Corkery of Chicago suggested that the thing to do was first to adopt the platform and then vote on Donnelly's supplement. This seemed exactly what supplement. This seemed exactly what the McCarthyites did not want, but it was their own argument and they sub-mitted as gracefully as they could while the platform was adopted with applause. Then, like a flash came a motion to lay the McCarthyite report on the table and to the chagrin of the Donnelly party it was carried vive voce. They rallied, however, Sharon of Jowa demanding a call of the States. Then Hiss after hiss greeted this first and only mention in the convention of the name of either of the opposing leaders in Ireland. Confusion reigned for a noment but finally the roll call began Chairman Corkery of the Illinois dele ation declared that the body was unan timous for placing McCarthy's resolu-tion on the table. This was questioned and Father Roley of Iowa excited! shouted for a recount, and wanted t know how many delegates there were from Hilliols.

Much cheering followed when a rising vote of the Illinois delegation showed 153 ayes and 8 nays. Father Foley now jumped to his feet and an-nounced lowa's vote as 2 ayes, 15 nays, passionately adding "and they repre-sent more money, too, than all the men from Illinois.

Wisconsin also voted 7 ayes and 11 Wisconsin also voted 7 ayes and 11

States the bulk of the ballots were against indorsing McCarthy, and the minority was effectually shelved.
New York voted 45 solid ayes. Sec.

chairman Smythe of Rhode Island elicited a round of applause with the announcement that the treasury books showed that the league's accounts were correct with a balance on hand of $1085.

Then came the election of officers. N. V. Gannon, Ryan O'Neil and John P. Sutton were named for president, but the latter two withdrew and Gannon was elected by acclamation. Inaccept ing he said: No man ever occupied the office but had

The new ownes of the property will make a proposithn to rebuild the road between Los Angeles and Santa Monica if sufficient encouragement in the way of subsidies, rights of way, etc., is forthcoming. If santa Monica does not want the road rebuilt badly enough to offer inducements wen the only alternative of the company will be to take up the rails and ties ind dispose of them as best they may. It is inderstood that Judge Lamme's clients will have acquired the road for only about $90,000, but are prepared to expend the necessary $200,000 to put the road in condition for carringtraffic. The capitalists have plendy of money, but before they undertake the reconstruction of the road they wantto see some financial encouragement of their enterprise. It is stated that thee is about twenty-six miles of rusted rail lying on the rotten ties, nearly lovered with dirt and weeds, and this will either be utilized for a traffic-carrying road or be hauled away as scap-iron. It begins to look as though Sata Monica will yet have its third railrad—if it is badly wanted. have its third railrad-if it is badly

A NOVEL CONTEST.

Canoeing at Westlake Park Yesterday— Result of a Wager. A novel contest took place at Westlake Park yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. It appears that James Cuzner, the lumber man, is the owner of an In lian birch-bark canoe, an uncertain sort of craft in inexperienced hands, which turns bottom side up on the slightest provocation. Mr. Cuzner has recently placed his boat on Westlake Park, where it has attracted consider-

Park, where it has attracted considerable attention, but no one but the owner had the courage to use it until yesterday, when the "hoodoo" was raised in good shape.

At a recent meeting of the "Lie-Killing Club" Mr. Cuzner was talking about his pet boat and expatiating on the delights of canoeing, when once the art is acquired. No other member of the club had ever navigated a birch-bark canoe and for the time being Mr. Cuzner was looked on as a real, live hero. The was looked on as a real, live hero. The owner of the canoe is a modest man, but he is only human, and as he began to realize his superiority his bump of self-esteen swelled accordingly and the other members say he began to put on airs. The discussion finally became quite animated, and Mr. Cuzner, to bring matters to a crisis, said he would "set up the wine" for the erowd, if any one of them could make the circuit of the lake without capsizing—the wine to be on the other fellow in case he failed. Maj, H. M. Russell promptly accepted the challenge, followed by Mayor Hazard and C. White Mortimer, the British vice-consul. Half a dozen more wanted to get in on the snap, but Mr. Cuzner thought he saw enough wine was looked on as a real, live hero. The more wanted to get in on the snap, but Mr. Cuzner thought he saw enough wine in sight for the time being, and declared the entries closed, intimating, however, that if nobody was drowned, he would give them all a show.

Promptly at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon the party put in an appearance at the lake. No time was lost in pre liminaries, and Maj. Russell at once got into the canoe, and started on his perilous journey. He made the voyage in safety, and on his return to the boathouse received an ovation. Mayor Hazard followed, and also got through successfully, although he had to be assisted from the craft on his return, and it was noticed that he did not sit down. The fact that the canoe was half full of water, and His Honor's remark that he The fact that the cance was half full of water, and His Honor's remark that he "didn't know the blamed thing leaked," renders explanations unnecessary. Mr. Mortimer then made the trip without mishap, and further trials were postponed until Monday on account of darkness, when they will be renewed—if Mr. Cuzner can be found.

WATER! WATER! Is the great need in Southern California.

-THE-Gov. Stoneman Home Tract

Has not only an abundance but the property on the market for sale has its full quota set aside and run into a separate reservoir for this tract only. No shotgun brigade required to protect the buyers' interests in the water they purchase with the land. The owners of this tract absolutely own and control the water reservoir and pipes appropriated. On account of this arrangement with Mrs. Stoneman the few remaining lots are worth from $50 to $100 more per acre, but will be sold at the old price. Ask F.Q. Story, E. Pollard or Wallace & Sons, Alhambra, if we have overstated the value of remaining lots. Those parties who have been hesitating about buying lots in this tract need wait no longer. The gentlemen named are old successful fruit growers—have been through several water wars. By their co-operation and the wish on the part of Mrs. Stoneman to remove all differences that ever could arise (about the ownership, control and distribution of water) a mutual arrangement was brought about and now all subsequent purchasers can enjoy the results of their labor on their behalf. With all complications that might arise in the receipt and distribution of water eliminated, the few remaining lots are a great bargain. Let us show you these lots: they are very desirable. -GIVEN TO-DR. WOH,

Dr. Woh's life work has been from early youth one of persistent and untiring observation, study and investigation, as fully as lay in his power to perfect himself in all branches of the art of healing human sickness and disease. Born in China, of influential parents, of a family whose ancestors have been for generations deservingly renowned as leading physicians, Dr. Woh naturally followed in the footsteps of hi fathers. In China he has practiced his profession for several years, being at on time a physician in the Imperial Hospital, and in America for a long time. His great number of patients, his wonderful and many cures, and the great list of letters from grateful and thankful patrons now prove him to be a remarkable and successful

For many years I have been troubled with lung disease, which finally ended in asthma and consumption.

I consulted with the best physicians I could find but they did me no benefit, but on the contrary I got worse and worse, until I was told by one of them that I could not recover. Dr. Woh took me in this condition. He has in two menths' time entirely cured me. I most cordaily recommend him to all sufferers.

Dr. Woh was recommended to me by a friend. I had been troubled for years with indigestion, causing fearful headaches and vertigo, making my life one of misery. I tried and paid the best physicians without relief. Finally, to please my friend. I visited Dr. Woh at his office and he advised with me and gave me medicines. This was but six weeks ago. Today I can gladly and sincerely say that he has entirely cured me. April 3d, 1891. 331 Court st. L. A. Cal.

For Jyears I have been troubled with terrible cramps and pains in my abdomen, and with dropsical swellings of my feet and limbs. I endeavored in every way to find relief but failed, until four weeks ago I began using Dr. Woh's medicines. Now'I am perfectly well and cured of a sickness of three years' standing. A TERRIBLE FATE.

An Aged Woman Burned to Death at San Pedro. At 9:15 o'clock Thursday evening fire broke out in t. e residence of Mrs. Boschke, on Boschke's Island, a small island in Wilmington Bay, adjoining the northern limits of San Pedro. An alarm was given at once by the fire bell and steamers at the wharves, and the fire department responded promptly and got the hose-carts out, but as soon as it was discovered where the fire was it was found to be impossible to render any assistance with the apparatus.

The railroad company's switch engine, which carries a fire pump and hose, turned out promptly, and as the track crosses the island, it was enabled to get close to the burning buildings, and several outbuildings were saved by the yardmen.

Among the occupants of the burned building was Mrs. Hanna B. Fenderson, the mother of Mrs. Bo-chke, 84 years of age. The old lady, who has been an invalid for a number of years, was in bed when the fire started, and before assistance could reach her the room which she occu ied was in flames

The charred remains of Mrs. Fenderson were taken from the ruins as soon as the fire had been put out and taken to an undertaker's establishment, where an inquest was held today and a verdict rendered in accordance with the facts as stated.

The cause of the fire is believed to have been the explosion of a coal oil lamp in the room occupied by Miss Ida Boschke, which adjoined the room of Mrs. Fenderson. Miss Ida had a narrow escape, being compelled to crawl through a window after getting severely burned and bruised in her efforts to subdue the flames. The Boschke's are among the oldest and most respected families of this sec-tion and in their terrible affliction they have the sympathies of the entire community.

Mr. Boschke, who is a surveyor, is absent in the northern part of the State on a business trip, and no man was on the place. Nothing was saved, Mrs. Boschke and her daughter escaping in their night clothes.

THE EPISCOPALIANS.

Proceedings at Yesterday's Sessions of the

The Episcopal Convocation assembled again yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, and held a final business session. After a long discussion in regard to by-laws the matter was referred to a committee consisting of Dean True, Drs. Haskins. Easter and Brown and Mr. Towell.

Several of the clergy debated the proposed amalgamation of the Los Angeles Churchman and the Pacific Churchman. There was decided opposition to the idea of a convocation organ. A communication from Rev. C. L. Miel, editor of the Pacific Churchman, was referred to Rev. Dr. Haskins, editor of the Los Angeles Churchman.

It was voted that the next session of the convocation be held at Pasadena.

As the 80th birthday of Bishop Kip takes place today, and in view of the fact that he had sent his blessing to the convocation, a committee was appointed to return an appropriate response. The thanks of the convocation were voted to the rector and parishioners of Christ Church for their hospitality.

At 12 o'clock the members of the convocation adjourned, in order to proceed to St. Paul's Hospital at the corner of South Hill and Sixteenth streets,

Now comes the Los Angeles County Bank, a corporation, and by a majority of its board of directors, duly authorized thereto, respectfully shows to your honorable court: 1st. That said Los Angeles County Bank is a corporation duly organized and existing under the laws of the State of California.

ing under the laws of the State of California.

That it was organized under said laws on the 26th day of May, A.D. 1874, for the purpose of engaging in a general banking business; and since the said date it has been and now is engaged in carrying on said business in the city of Los Angeles, county of Los Angeles and State of California, with its principal place of business in what is known as the Temple Block, in said, city, county and State.

R. S. Baker, L. T. Garnsey and Charles Forman.

2d. That it was organized under the name of ·LOS ANGELES COUNTY BANK, and since, hitherto, that has been and it now is its present name.

3d. That it is now proposed by said corporation that its name be changed from its present name of Los Angeles County Bank to the name of BANK OF AMERICA.

4th. That the reason for such change of name, and why your petitioners propose the same, is as follows:

(1.) The name proposed is shorter, and can be written with greater economy of time.

(2) That the name, Los Angeles County Bank, is one among the names of a number of banks in the city of Los Angeles having the words "Los Angeles" for a part of its name. And it has been found that some confusion arises in the minds of strangers as to the identity of the several banks having such words for a part of their names. having such words for a part of their names.

(3.) That the name. Los Angeles Gounty Bank, has been found to suggest to those unacquainted with its business, and the scope thereof, the idea that it is devoted solely and exclusively to banking matters and business in the county, or connected with the county; and to suggest the idea durther that it is not carrying on a general banking business with the world at large, or with whomsover may call upon it to deal.

(4.) That the proposed name. Bank of America, contains no such suggestion that the corporation bearing it is a small or local affair.

(5.) That your petitioners have made inquiry and ascertained from the Secretary

(4.) That the proposed name, Bank of the merica, contains no such suggestion that the corporation bearing it is a small or local affair.

That your petitioners have made inquiry and ascertalned from the Secretary of State that there is no corporation in the state of California that has ever selected the name Bank of America for its name.

(6.) That in the opinion of your petitioners the proposed name has none of the objections, and will not encounter any of the objections that have heretofore occurred to the present name of said corporation; and, Lastly, That in the opinion of your petitioners the proposed name is a most excellent and desirable one, and one which will be more advantageous and beneficial to the said corporation and its stockholders than the present name it bears.

THE PRIZE COMMUNITY.

In the circular just issued by the Throop University, after referring to Pasadena's superior location and unrivaled climate, is printed the following:

"To these advantages is to be added the high characters of the resident population.

dena is a cultured community,

Pasadena is a cultured community, not a few of her citizens being distinguished in professional and literary circles.

"In choosing an institution in which to place your sons and daughters, the question of environment should be carefully considered. Especially is this true regarding the moral aspect of the question. Pasadena, in the sentiment of her people and in the laws of her municipality, fosters virtue and excludes vice; churches of almost every name maintain fiourishing ormost every name maintain flourishing or-ganizations, while saloons are excluded by law from the city. A high moral tone pre-vades the whole community. Pasadena as an educational center, leaves little to be desired."

What other community of equal size can truthfully say as much?

BOYLE HEIGHTS.

An Automatic "Pick-up" for the Cable Road—A Quiet Wedding. At the Chicago-street power house there is now in operation a recentlycontrived automatic "pick-up" or "gypsy," which promises to be a great saving of labor and inconvenience, especially during the muddy weather of winter. The device, which is one of Roadmaster McClure's ideas, is so designed and constructed that when the in coming train has dropped the old cable and reached the proper point above the new section, the head of the "grip" new section, the head of the "grip" strikes one end of a lever which receding downward, raises the rope up to the required height and by means of a carrier pulley at the opposite end of the lever, the cable is forced into the jaws of the grip. This saves the conductor the labor of running ahead, fishing a chain and ring out of the mud and then tugging at it like a tow-horse to

THE EAST SIDE.

A lady was recently heard to pass a severe, yet perhaps not unnatural, criticism upon the enterprise of our citizens. She was on a cable car, and it was evidently her first visit to the East Side. "This issuch a pretty place to live," she said. "and yet it seems so neglected. Why, I have seen several partly-burned buildings standing right on the main street, and no attempt being made to repair them." A gentleman spoke up and informed her that such things were allowed to stand here until the property-owner chose to tear until the property-owner chose to tear the ruins down or to rebuild. "But," he added, "it is the first town or place of any standing that I ever heard of where charred rafters were allowed to remain a public eye-sore for weeks and months after the settlement of all in-surance claims." There are several such relics now on the East Side, but nobody appears to know just who to appeal to in order to have the evil rem-edied.

It is stated on good authority that there is no antagonism between the new water projectors and the present water company. The company now supplying water to residents of the city are not only willing but anxious that more water should be developed in the mountains back of the town; and not only so, but are also willing to make terms, so it is said, with the municipality in case it is found desirable for the city to own and operate its water supply system.

After the club adjourned many of the ladies tarried to lunch in the exchange years and talk over the interest of the rooms and talk over the intrests of the club.

Maj. W. A. Elderkin entertained a arge company of ladies and gentlemen in the parlors of the Flower Festival Home on East Fourth street by a lecture. His subject, ostensibly, was Catalina Island, but he developed his theme in an exceedingly broad manner, which in-cluded all the historical characters from Columbus down to George Washington, making, between times, some incidental allusions to Catalina. He illustrated his lecture by means of a collection of extraordinary paintings, which, with the assistance of Tom Barnes, he mounted from time to time on an easel facing the company. The pictures seidom resembled the objects they were designed to represent, but this minor defect had little apparent effect on the lecturer, who, with the utmost gravity assured his auditors that it was entirely the fault of the artist. He went into quite a dissertation on the Catalina schools, viz: The schools of barracuda, of smelt and of yellowtail, which he declared had done much to develop the brain power of Los Angeles gentlemen. He told a Catalina ish yarn which outdesigned to represent, but this minor He told a Catalina fish varn which out and evening sessions.

DIED ON THE ROAD.

ndden Death of a Well-known Calabasas Rancher. Coroner Weldon was called out to Calabasas early yesterday morning to hold an inquest on the remains of John Edwards of that place, who was found the night before dead in his wagon. It seems that Edwards, who is wellknown in this city, drove in day before yesterday, and after he had attended to his business he started for home late in the afternoon. He supplied himself with a couple of flasks of whisky, and from all accounts he drank freely of it on the road.

It is not known when he died, but when his team-reached Calabasas the horses came to a standstill in front of the hotel, and Justice Newhall stepped out to the wagon when he noticed that Edwards made no effort to alight. An insertication showed that the driver was considered that the constitution showed that the driver was considered. vestigation showed that the driver was dead, and the remains were removed. Yesterday morning Garrett & Sampson, the undertakers of this city were noti-fied and they in turn informed Coroner

The inquest showed that he came to his death from heart failure caused by an overdose of liquor.

The remarkable effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla in the following case illustrates the power of this medicine over all blood diseases:

"My son, 7 years old, had a white swelling come on his right teg below the knee, which contracted the muscles so that his leg was draw, up at right angles. Physicians langed the awalling. at right angles. Physicians lanced the swelling, which discharged freely, but did not help him materially. I considered him

A Confirmed Cripple.

I was about to take him to Cineinnaii for an operation, expecting his leg would have to be taken off, and began giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla in order to get up his strength. The medicine woke up his appetite, and soon pieces of bone were discharged from the sore. We continued with discharged from the sore. We continued with Hood's Sarsaparilla, as it seemed to be doing him so much good, and the discharge from the sore decreased, the swelling went down, the leg straightened out, and in a few months he had perfect use of his leg. He is now apparently as well as ever." JOHN L. McMURRAY, Notary Public, Ravenswood, W. Va.

The cheapest and best land in Southern California for oranges and lemons. Altitude about the same as Redlands, making it very free from frost. Dry atmosphere, making it, like Redlands, Soil claimed by the best judges, to be ever better than that of Redlands and Riverside Water supply (1 inch to 4 acres) equal to the best in Southern California.

Water supply (1 inch to 4 acres) equal to the best in Southern California, 9000 acres sold in less than a year in small tracts, mostly 10 and 20 acres each.

Prices have steadily advanced from 850 an acre one year ago to $110 an acre now, and will advance to $120 an acre next month.

We have no destire to sell this land to any but actual improvers, but, comparing the prices with the $400, $500 and $600 land of Redlands and Riverside, it is unnecessary to have much foresight to see that there is a good speculative value in it now.

We have a few 10-acre tracts for sale from early buyers at $90 an acre: a few at $95 an acre: a several at $100 an acre: over 2000 acres at $110 ac acre: a few tens at $120, $125, $155 and $250 acre. Also a few large undivided tracts at still lower prices.

There is no "boom" here, still, if you are going to buy, you save money just the same by buying at once.

If it don't suit you to come and select the land and you wish us to do so, we will make a careful selection for you that will be just as good as if you spent a couple of days in looking over the ground.

You are invited to call or correspond with Yours respectfully,

WHITTIER

This space will soon contain some interesting news from East Whittier. That portion of country lying along the southern slope of the Puente Hills has long been an attractive place for home-seekers, its only drawback being lack of water. That disadvantage is now overcome by the East Whittier Land and Water Company's magnificent water system of eleven miles of solid cement work with a capacity of 20 million gallons daily and now carrying 5 million gallons of purest artesian water.

The East Whittier Land and Water Company will soon place on the market a few hundred acres of the choicest land in Southern California at a very low price, with the finest water in the country going with the land. If seeking a home with beautiful location, richest soil, purest air and water, the best of society, churches and schools, all in plain sight of Los Angeles and the ocean, and at lowest rates, como to East Whittier, or write to
